To Staff and the Twin Rivers School Community,

With winter coming to an end, the anticipation of springtime grows within our school community, heralding a season of outdoor activities and fun opportunities that inspire growth and engagement among students and staff alike. In TR, one of the traditional spring events that we look forward to is Open House.

Open House is a time when families and friends are invited to visit their child's campus and classrooms to meet their teachers, friends, and to see the myriad examples of student learning which are displayed with pride by both our teachers and our students.

People love to share accomplishments, especially when they have been working so hard to improve their skills. That is precisely how our students feel when their parents, caregivers, families and friends take time to visit their classroom to see where they are exploring science, advancing their writing and math skills, enjoying and engaging in physical education and extracurricular activities and more.

We invite and encourage you to make note of the date and time for Open House at your student's school and plan to join them in touring the campus and exploring the many examples of student learning in their classrooms. Our teachers and support staff dedicate a great deal of time to make sure the classroom walls, tables and desktops are displays of individual and group learning. Let your child explain their day, their routine, ask questions about what they love, what is a challenge, where they sit when they eat lunch, and with whom do they enjoy this downtime.

Across the District and across all subjects, our TR team members believe in all our students, just as our families do, and we hope that you will join us at Open House celebrations to reinforce that together we believe, we care, and we see their incredible progress.
